Letter From The Chair & The President

Dear Friends,

On behalf of the Board of Trustees, staff and our generous supporters, we are pleased to present to you The DuPage Community Foundation's Fiscal Year 2013 Annual Report.

This past fiscal year has been one of change and transition for the Foundation. And with change and transition come new opportunities. As a community foundation, we are often presented with opportunities to effect positive change. Although limitations to our resources prevent us from pursuing all of them, thanks to your ongoing investment in our mission, we continue to be able to increase our ability to embrace strategic initiatives and funding opportunities when they present themselves.

Despite an abundance of prosperity throughout DuPage County, the number of our community's less fortunate continues to increase, as do their needs. For example, DuPage County's unemployment rate, as reported by County Board Chair Dan Cronin in his recent State of the County address, was between 8.1% and 7.8%. Although this figure is better than the regional unemployment rate of 9.7%, it is still unacceptable, and steps need to be taken to address this critical issue.

As we work with local community leaders, our not-for-profit partners, donors and other constituents to discuss challenges such as unemployment, financial literacy and education, among others, we find ourselves in awe of the number of creative solutions that are devised through our roundtables and collaborations. One such solution is the recent establishment of our Early Childhood Care and Education Initiative: "Bright and Early DuPage." This Initiative, comprised of a team of educators, not-for-profit agencies and funders, has come together to launch a pilot program in Wheaton-Warrenville to ensure that children ages zero to five years old become kindergarten-ready. Studies have shown that there are significant numbers of children living in DuPage County who are not ready for kindergarten, which can cause significant hindrances to their long-term success, and ultimately to the vitality of our community's workforce. In particular, our pilot program study reported that in low-income neighborhoods in which our Initiative is focused, only 21% of kids are ready for kindergarten, with 37% of them borderline ready.

It is our goal and the goal of our partners to dramatically improve these figures, and to, hopefully, replicate this program in other school districts throughout DuPage.

Thank you for your continued investment in our mission and for your ongoing confidence and trust in our stewardship. It is a pleasure working with you to help raise the quality of life for the residents of our community. We wish you and yours all the best in the New Year!

OUR VISION: To raise the quality of life throughout DuPage County.

OUR MISSION: To foster philanthropy, connect donors to area needs and build community partnerships.

Our History

Established in 1986 with the help of local residents like Mary Eleanor Wall and the late Brooks McCormick, the Foundation is a publicly supported 501 (c)(3) organization to which contributions are tax deductible.

The Foundation was created to benefit the residents of DuPage County, and it receives contributions and bequests from individuals, corporations, and foundations wishing to make lasting contributions to the people of DuPage County. These gifts are placed into permanent endowment funds, and the earnings on these funds are then used, in accordance with donor wishes, for the Foundation's grantmaking and community leadership activities.

The Leader In DuPage

The Foundation provides support for the people of DuPage County by awarding grants to local not-for-profit organizations in the areas of Arts and Culture, Education, the Environment, and Health and Human Services. The Foundation also awards grants from its donor-advised and other restricted funds.

Since its inception, the Foundation has grown to more than $50 million in assets and has awarded more than $17 million in grants to not-for-profit organizations serving DuPage County and beyond.

"Anima is blessed to have had a long term relationship with The DuPage Community Foundation. Through the Foundation's leadership, arts organizations like ours are able to find support and funding to accomplish our mission. The DuPage Community Foundation makes for a better community for all."—Anima Board President Bill Hupp

At Your Service

Donors

Our professional staff provides each donor with the highest level of efficiency, flexibility, personal service, expertise, accountability, anonymity (if desired), perpetuity, and maximum tax benefits for all gifts contributed.

The minimum amount necessary to establish a named endowment fund is $25,000; however, we welcome and encourage gifts of any size given to an existing fund.

Professional Advisors

Whether you are an accountant, attorney, financial advisor, life underwriter or trust officer, the Foundation is here to assist you in accomplishing the charitable objectives of your clients.

From offering organizational assistance and personal contacts, to providing educational seminars and individual site visits to local charities, it is our pleasure to assist you in any way we can to facilitate the giving process for you and your clients.

Not-For-Profits

The Foundation makes grants annually to not-for-profit organizations serving DuPage County residents. We also provide referrals to alternative funding sources, individual consultations and training opportunities in the form of seminars and workshops.

A number of area not-for-profits also enlist the Foundation's support in their endowment-building and planned giving efforts. From providing assistance in the development and marketing of your organization's programs, to cultivating relationships with area professionals and philanthropic leaders, the Foundation can help you strengthen your organization and ensure its long-term success.

Types of Funds

General Endowment

Allows donors to pool gifts of all sizes into a permanent endowment designed to provide the Foundation maximum flexibility in meeting the most pressing needs of our community today and in the future.

Field-of-Interest

Allows many donors to pool their gifts into a common fund that will generate perpetual support for a shared area of interest among the donors (e.g., the arts, children and youth, the environment, seniors).

Above: Metropolitan Family Services DuPage received a $75,000 grant to launch the Foundation's Bright & Early DuPage pilot program in Wheaton-Warrenville, which seeks to ensure that children ages zero to five are kindergarten-ready.

Right: The DuPage Community Foundation's Director of Programs Barb Szczepaniak consults with Foundation Trustee and Grant Committee Chair Joseph Weidenbach during a Grant Committee meeting.

Donor-Advised

Allows donors to create their own funds, and the opportunity to remain an integral part of the giving process by recommending grants from such funds to the agencies and programs they wish to support.

Scholarship

Provides a permanent vehicle for donors to help graduates of area high schools pursue their continuing education goals. The Foundation relies upon objective committees to select recipients for grants from such scholarship funds.

Agency Endowment and Designated

Provides perpetual support in the form of income for a specific not-for-profit. These funds can be established either by the agency or by a common donor.

Operating

These funds are used to support the general operations of the Foundation.

For a complete listing of all of our funds, please refer to our website, www.dcfdn.org.

FOUNDATION FACT:

Did you know that the Foundation manages more than 260 funds for donors, not-for-profit agencies and the greater community? We are here to help you accomplish your charitable goals, regardless of how broad or specific they are.

Opportunities To Give

One of the principal advantages for donors who give through The DuPage Community Foundation is flexibility. To this end, the Foundation offers donors a variety of tax-effective ways to make gifts that achieve their charitable goals.

Cash

Cash is the easiest way to contribute to the Foundation and will qualify for the maximum allowable income tax deduction.

Marketable or Closely-Held Securities

Appreciated stocks and bonds may be given to the Foundation, allowing donors to deduct their current market value as a charitable contribution and avoid capital gains tax on assets that have appreciated in value.

Real Estate

Real estate may be given to the Foundation at its current market value, allowing donors to receive a full deduction and avoid capital gains tax on any appreciation.

Life Insurance

Life insurance can be used to create a gift to the Foundation in one of two ways. First, donors can transfer ownership of a policy to the Foundation and receive a current income tax deduction in the year the transfer is made. Second, donors can name the Foundation as a beneficiary of the policy while retaining ownership of the policy for their lifetime.

FOUNDATION FACT:

Did you know that a donor-advised fund has several advantages over a private foundation? These include:

- No cost to establish
- A higher deduction rate for gifts
- Anonymity (if desired)
- No separate tax return to file
- No minimum payout required

Retirement Plans

Donors can make contributions from an IRA or other retirement assets such as a 401(k), Keogh, or 403(b) to establish a new fund or contribute to an existing fund at the Foundation.

Transfer from an Existing Private Foundation

Administering a private foundation under IRS rules can be burdensome and expensive. Transferring the assets from such a foundation into a donor-advised fund at The DuPage Community Foundation provides a cost-effective alternative for administering these funds well into the future.

Charitable Lead Trusts

These trusts provide income to a fund at the Foundation for a set number of years for such charitable purposes as the donor has specified. Then at the end of that period, the principal of the trust and any accumulated appreciation is distributed to the donor's children, grandchildren or other named beneficiaries, often with significant tax savings.

Charitable Remainder Trusts

These trusts can be created so donors or other beneficiaries receive income for life or for a given number of years. At the death of the beneficiary or the expiration of the given number of years, the remainder of the trust passes to the Foundation to accomplish the charitable purposes specified by the donors.

The Professional Advisor's Role in Philanthropy

Five Reasons To Discuss The DuPage Community Foundation With Your Clients

There are many reasons why people choose The DuPage Community Foundation to achieve their charitable goals. Here are five of the most significant:

1. Creating Personal Charitable Legacies.

We help donors develop personal charitable legacies that reflect their philanthropic objectives. We listen carefully to each donor and suggest ways to fulfill their wishes.

2. Protecting Donor Investments.

We take responsibility to invest each fund prudently and administer it in accordance with the donor's wishes.

3. Providing Charitable Options.

Donors have the option of giving to many charitable organizations and purposes through the creation of one fund. Some of the areas that can be served include Arts and Culture, Education, the Environment, and Health and Human Services.

4. Making Philanthropy Simple.

An endowment fund can be created with $25,000 and a signed deed of gift establishing the fund. All tax filings and administration of the fund are thereafter handled by The DuPage Community Foundation.

5. Establishing a Permanent Charitable Legacy.

Funds at The DuPage Community Foundation are designed to last forever. Your client's charitable intent will last past their lifetime and provide a permanent legacy.

In June, the Chicago Symphony Orchestra performed a series of three concerts at The Morton Arboretum. The performances were made possible by a $250,000 grant by the Foundation's JCS Fund. All the performances were sold out with more than 4,200 guests in attendance for each of three concerts.

FOUNDATION FACT:

The Foundation reached $1 million in total grant distributions in June 1998, 12 years into its existence. During the past 15 years, the Foundation has awarded more than $15 million on behalf of DuPage County residents to benefit not-for-profits throughout our county and beyond.

The Grantmaking Process

The Foundation's Community Needs Grant Program has evolved over the years into a program that is efficient, responsive and strategic.

There are two grant cycles in which not-for-profits may participate, one in the spring and one in the fall. Grant applications are accepted in the spring for Health and Human Services programs, and Arts and Culture, Education and Environment applications are accepted in the fall. The applications are reviewed by the Foundation's Grant Committee, which carefully analyzes the requests and determines the recipient organizations and award amounts.

"We are aiming to make our grants more strategic," said Barb Szczepaniak, director of programs for the Foundation. "Aside from the competitive grant requests that we receive, we also strive to match grant requests with the charitable interests of our donor-advisors."

The Foundation will make donors and donor-advisors aware of needs that fit their respective areas of interest. This allows more grants to be funded over and above any given year's grant budget.

The grant budget is determined each year in accordance with the Foundation's spending policy, which is based on the average fund balances of the previous 12 quarters.

"We are looking to make a connection between community needs and donors," said Szczepaniak. "It's what we're about."

Types of Grants

- Community Needs (funded twice a year by application)
- Donor-Advised (awarded throughout the year)
- Scholarships (awarded throughout the year)
- Designated (awarded throughout the year)
- "Communityworks" (which includes the Foundation's focus areas of early childhood care and education and workforce development are awarded throughout the year)

FOUNDATION FACT:

The Foundation accepts grants in the spring for Health and Human Services and in the fall for Arts and Culture, Education and the Environment. For details about grant criteria, visit our website, www.dcfnd.org.

FOUNDATION FACT:

Did you know that The DuPage Community Foundation receives between 50-75 grant applications per each Community Needs Grant cycle?

The Foundation regularly offers our donor-advisors the opportunity to review the grant applications that we receive through our Community Needs Grant Program. We do this to inform local donors about the needs in the community, to introduce them to the many organizations which apply to us, and to engage donor-advisors in helping us boost the level of grant support that is provided through our grant process. In response to Community Needs grant applications, donor-advisors have fully funded the following grants:

passed away August 7, 2013, at the age of 93, after becoming ill while recovering from a procedure on his aorta.

While Joyce remembers not being especially close to her grandfather, that all soon changed. Now she is perhaps closer to him than ever. Joyce is carrying forth Mulholland's philanthropic wishes by assuming the role of donor-advisor for his fund at the Foundation.

"He was always working and always demanded to be respected," Joyce said. "He was stoic but he had a playful side."

Mulholland built a successful business later in life. During his 50s, he founded and was CEO of Mardel Laboratories, Inc. in Glendale Heights, a developer, manufacturer, and marketer of high quality pet care products. Mulholland sold the company in 1997 to Agri-Nutrition Group Ltd., proving that hard work and a strong work ethic pays off.

"He put his life blood into his company," said Joyce. "He always believed that everyone should start at ground zero and work his way up. It is his mid-life success that I wish for people to remember about him."

Mulholland's sons worked at the business, starting at the bottom in the packaging department. Joyce recalled that she worked a couple of summers in packaging, too.

"He was 100% into his company," said Joyce. "And he wanted you to be, too."

Growing up, many summers were spent in Sawyer, Michigan, at the family lake house, which Mulholland loved.

"He loved sailing, and he loved going out on the lake," recalled Joyce. "I think it brought him back to his days in the Navy."

Shortly after his graduation, Mulholland was commissioned a Naval Officer at the US Naval Academy in Annapolis and served with distinction in the Pacific during World War II. He was recalled to active duty as a Lt. Commander during the Korean conflict.

Joyce related that her parents divorced so there was a time when she did not see her grandparents very often. Family members were reunited when the Joyce family began hosting the holidays at their home in Wheaton about 10 years ago. This reinvigorated their relationship, bringing them closer together than ever.

After they were reunited, Mulholland, Joyce and Joyce's daughter Cami would go out to lunch almost weekly. It was during these lunches that Mulholland began to introduce conversations about the Foundation to his granddaughter.

"I think my grandfather knew I had philanthropy on the top of my mind because I had founded a 501(3)(c) at my daughter's school," Joyce said. "It was after he turned 90 that he asked me if I wanted to be involved with the Foundation. And of course, I said 'yes.'"

Mulholland loved to banter,

“All In The Family”

and he liked a strong woman. “I think that’s why he enjoyed our lunches so much,” said Joyce. “His great-granddaughter and he were quite a pair. He adored her, and she definitely brought out his playful side. They played tic-tac-toe all the time.”

Joyce confided that Mulholland trusted her explicitly and was always curious about her opinion of things related to his philanthropy.

“I always told him that if something tugs at your heart, then that’s what you should do,” said Joyce. “I have my whole life to devote to my own personal areas of interest.”

Mulholland was very specific with Joyce in terms of where he wanted to devote his support, which was to the elderly in need.

“He wanted the elderly to benefit,” said Joyce. “He wanted to have a direct impact on them.”

Two months before his passing, Mulholland and Joyce met with Barb Szczepaniak, director of programs for the Foundation, to share his intentions with Joyce and the Foundation about where he wanted his philanthropic efforts to be focused after his passing.

“He was very clear about his intentions,” Joyce said. “He wanted to take care of the elderly and battered women. He also wanted to focus on hunger and homelessness.

“I think it was tied to the fact that he did not want to grow old,” Joyce said. “He had grown up poor and had a strong work ethic, which he inherited from his parents,” Joyce shared. He could relate to the elderly population, but he did not want to succumb to becoming old, and he hated that he all but lost his hearing,” she added.

“Grandpa was quirky,” Joyce recalled. “He had a little gold pen and a calendar datebook that he would always write notes in. He would double-check and triple-check his figures. The pen and book are belongings of his that I requested after his passing. I’ll always cherish these items and remember this about him.

“He was blessed to be in the position that he was,” Joyce added. “He wanted to pay it forward. It was easy for him to see that I was the correct person to carry out his intentions. The fact that he knew I would do this for him allowed him to leave knowing that I would carry out his legacy. And it’s what I’ll do.

“Most people would say that my grandpa was tough, and he was,” said Joyce. “But he had a softer side that came out as he grew older. He often became emotional when he left my home. He did not want to leave.”

Mulholland is survived by his wife of 70 years, Ruth; four married children, Rebecca (David) Blum, Kathleen (Gerald) Knatz, Jan Alexander (Linda) Mulholland (Joyce’s parents), and Michael (Roberta) Mulholland; 10 grandchildren; and 10 great-grandchildren.

Mulholland was referred to the Foundation by Dave Scatterday of Edward Jones in Glen Ellyn in February 2002.

“After exploring Ray’s charitable objectives, I quickly learned that he was a man with a plan,” recalled David McGowan, Foundation president. “Ray wanted to leave a legacy to his family and to his community to benefit senior citizens who may not have what he had.” The Mulholland Family Donor-Advised Fund was established. In addition, Mulholland founded or was instrumental in the founding of these additional funds at the Foundation:

- DuPage Convalescent Center Foundation Fund
- Kiwanis Club of Glen Ellyn Fund
